Navigation Diagram

Abstract navigational structure of Google News (<http://news.google.com>):

Google News is a sub-division/sub-domain of Google.com, as are most of the services offered by Google. The start page of Google News lists the current top stories around the web. The stories are divided into eight different categories (World, U.S., Business etc.). International versions of the start page are also available.

Blatt 1 – Aufgabe 1

At the top there are links to several other Google services as well as a search form for the news and the web in general (RED). At the left side there is the menu listing the different categories (GREEN). The start page itself lists the overall Top Stories at the top of the content area (YELLOW) and the latest stories from each category below (BLUE). Note that there are several international versions available as well (GRAY). By default, the U.S. Version is displayed.
